PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Creekside Digital, Glen Arm, Maryland

Image Capture Specialist – Archival Digitization, 2013 – Present

I digitize both modern and historic archival materials, dating back to the American Civil War Period. Examples of materials include artwork, newspapers, books, pamphlets, post cards, documents, photographic and negative slides, and microfilm. I handle these materials with extra care to avoid any damage during the digitization process. I operate the cameras and photographic equipment required for digitization, and handle the quality assurance of the digital images. I also have experience in 3D photo capture, in preparation for 3D printing.

Key Achievements:

- ♦ Assisted Smithsonian Institution staff members at the National Museum of Natural History in project for 3D Ortery photo capture, digital image quality assurance, and 3D digitization of museum's fossil collections.
- ♦ Completed digitization projects for clients such as White House Historical Society, Smithsonian National Museum of Natural History and Postal Museum, Gettysburg College, Harvard University, Clemson University, DC Public Library, and the Library of Congress.
